Special Viewing Site Guest Information

This pass will permit occupants of the passenger vehicle to view a test flight of the Space Shuttle Orbiter "Enterprise" from the Special Viewing Site located adjacent to the dry lake bed landing runway.

There is no restriction on ages of passengers.

One of the enclosed maps pinpoints the location of the Special Viewing Site. Uniformed Air Force personnel as well as signs will direct you.

Portable sanitary facilities and drinking water will be available. Folding chairs, cameras and binoculars are permitted. Alcoholic beverages and pets are prohibited.

You and your guests are requested to remain at the Viewing Site until directed to depart, or an announcement of a postponement or delay has been made. Mission commentary and other official announcements will be broadcast from mobile communications vans parked in the area.

If you wish to remain with your vehicle during the test flight, it is possible that mission commentary will be broadcast by Radio Station KDOL-AM (1340 KC) in Mojave, California.

When departing the Special Guest Viewing Site, please drive carefully and follow the directions of Air Force and NASA personnel. In the event of a postponement, your vehicle pass will be accepted for the rescheduled test. The pass may be kept as a souvenir.

All dates for Space Shuttle test flights are very tentative.
They may be delayed or cancelled. You are urged to check by telephone for a recorded report on the status of the next scheduled flight, and the hours of operation for the NASA
Guest Center in Lancaster. On the west coast, please call:
AC 805/942-3975. On the east coast, call: AC 202/755-8363.
Again, please confirm the flight date before departing for the test area.
